Race Report BY Juney Thompson

It's August, people! It's warm, its rainy, and it's stupid. But, that's the tradeoff we tolerate in exchange for not having to buy snowplows, snow tires, or various other snow accessories. This August brought us to Part One of what we formerly officially/currently unofficially call "The Lava Bowl"! As is the tradition, the Lava Bowl takes place in the parking lot of the Orange County Convention Center (OCCC, if you're hip). The weather was living up to its Lava Bowl reputation, but the rain clouds held off until we wrapped it all up. Awful courteous of them. Thank you rain clouds!

Normally, when we come out to OCCC (See? Hip.), we see a ton of folks show up. This was no exception as we had 132 competitors registered for this particular event. Due to the high amount of competitors, we ran 4 runs each over 4 heats. The course was a very fun combo of flowing, open curves with some tight elements to keep the drivers on their toes. It was noted by multiple people that the course was actually more "open" than they anticipated when they actually drove it, compared to the feeling they got during the morning course walk. Although there were some tight places, there were others where you could pick different lines. A mighty fine course.

As for the notable notes:

- I'll just come right out and say it. The future is here. And it is... quiet... Top Time of the Day went to David Marcus, closely followed by Laura Campbell. They were both driving the same Tesla Model 3 Performance in B Street. I personally have never seen a "normal" street car build speed out of a corner like that thing, all while looking seemingly drama free. It was wild to watch... And a little scary. It's now only a matter of time before the robots overthrow us all. There is no stopping them.
- Anywho, tip of the hat to Rick Baz, who ran a close third in the fastest petrol-powered machine.
- In CS, the Marion vs. Palmblad battle rages on, with Mr. Palmblad taking a strong win this time. They've been very close all year. Will Ken respond with a win in September??
- In SMST4, Jeff Binford returned to take the top spot over Terry Glazar. 2018 Tiger Champion Ryan Speaks is still missing. I won't give up hope. They say he'll return when the moment is right... when we need him the most...
- In ES, Trevor Renson keeps showing everyone why Chevy moved the engine in the back in their upcoming Vette. Furthermore, due to his success in the stacked ES field, ol Trevor is leading the Tiger Points championship... As we begin to close in on the final few events of the season...
- Following in second place in the Tiger Points is Mark Burt, who put on a clinic for this event in AS. Mark and Diana now have a new weapon; a 2006 Z06, and they are putting it to good use. Aside from Mark's 1st place, the rest of the AS field was incredibly close!
- A battle of the Schneiders in XP generated our closest finish! Karel only made two runs, but his second run was good enough to hold off John by only 0.045 seconds! John was trying hard, too, with his best run being his last.
- The second closest finish was between Steven Hughes and Adam Arencibia-Moore in STR, with Steven clipping Adam by only 0.074 seconds!
- A big ol Novice group (18 of 'em!) was lead by Robert Race in his 2004 Miata! Great work Robert and welcome to regular classing! Shoutout to Michael Moushon in second place, driving a very cool 1974 Porsche 914.

The next event is the Lava Bowl Part Two: Electric Boogaloo, back out at OCCC (so hip). This is all assuming the Elon Musk/Tesla robots haven't risen up by then. If they have, I would like to go on record as saying I, for one, welcome our new mechanical overlords. I'd like to remind them that as a trusted reporter/writer, I could be helpful in rounding up others to toil in their underground Hyperloop tunnels. See ya in September!
